

Job opening for a research MR technician at: Department of Psychology, University of Turin

Position: The Department of Psychology, University of Turin, seeks to recruit a research oriented MRI technician to work at the Centre for Neuroimaging (CNI). CNI is a specialized hospital cum research facility with a Philips 3 Tesla Scanner, software for acquisition and analysis of fMRI, system for audio/visual/haptic stimulation, and transcranial magnetic stimulation setup (rTMS). In addition, the CNI is also equipped with systems for recording of electrophysiological measures and high resolution MRI compatible EEG system.

The position will be initially for a period of 12 months (renewable subsequently). The job and pay scale will be according to the category D1 (art. 22; contracts art. 22 replace Article 19). For an economic reference, please refer to the following table: http://www.unito.it/sites/default/files/costi_personale_ta_det_2014.pdf

Qualifications:

1. Preference will be given to candidates in possession of a PhD degree in the field of Neuroscience, Neuroimaging, Biostatistics or Complex Systems Neural.
2. In addition, proven experience documented by publications, references, presentations at national or international conferences is highly desirable in the following areas: Functional neuroimaging, neurophysiology, use of software for the presentation of the stimuli and the analysis of the fMRI data and neuro-psychophysiological.

Responsibilities: As a research technician, the personal will be involved in assisting the functional imaging studies utilizing MRI and complementary equipment and means.

For questions about the position, please contact Prof. Cristina Becchio (cristina.becchio@unito.it).